

Drew Johnson,
Candidate for NV State Treasurer

“Empowering Nevada—One Accountable Dollar at a Time”

Drew Johnson

Candidate for NV
State Treasurer

Connecting Las Vegas —

As a resident of the Las Vegas area with over a decade in Southern Nevada, Drew Johnson is running for Nevada State Treasurer in 2026. His campaign emphasises fiscal accountability, taxpayer protection, and increasing transparency in state finances—a message tailored for Nevadans who feel overlooked by traditional politics.

About the Candidate

Drew Johnson is a Republican candidate with a background as a policy analyst and government watchdog. He founded the Tennessee Center for Policy Research and has worked with major think tanks such as the American Enterprise Institute and the National Taxpayers Union.

His personal story: raised by a single mother in rural Tennessee, he later moved to Las Vegas, where he and his wife Sarah live with two rescue dogs.

Platform & Priorities

Johnson’s campaign for State Treasurer focuses on:

- Safeguarding taxpayer funds and increasing transparency in government financial operations.
- Expanding college savings programs and promoting financial literacy in schools and underserved communities.
- Maintaining or improving Nevada’s bond rating to support economic growth and infrastructure.
